

Renee L. Ridling

Renee L. Ridling, MS, LNHA Renee Ridling currently serves as the Executive Director of Gingerbread House, Inc. a non-profit provider of services for medically fragile, developmentally disabled individuals in Roll, Missouri. Renee’s passion is caring for and serving the needs of those who need services to ensure the best quality of life through quality care and services. Her experience in serving includes training, presentations and educational workshops on topics that include dementia, person-centered care, Medicare/Medicaid, and processes related to continuous quality improvement in the long-term care setting. She has served as an examiner for the American Health Care Association/National Center for Assisted Living National Quality Award Program and currently serves as a Judge for the program. Renee has successfully led two skilled nursing facilities to Quality Award success, including two Bronze and two Silver awards and in 2014 her facility became the first and only Missouri facility to achieve AHCA/NCAL’s highest level of recognition by receiving the Gold-Excellence in Quality Award in 2014. Renee is a licensed nursing home administrator (LNHA) in Missouri and holds a Master of Science in Health Care Administration. She has served as administrator and regional business development director for skilled nursing facilities in Missouri, Kansas, Indiana, and Illinois. She has been a frequent speaker for numerous senior care educational workshops and seminars in her local community.